Warmly Greeted by President Roosevelt.

SHOWS NOW WEARINES

Washington, Jan. 2.—With a new President and a new year, the state capitol and beautiful White House were the scene of a simple yet impressive American ceremonial.

All records were broken in the size of the throng of officials and private citizens who gathered to witness the good old custom of shaking hands and exchanging the compliments of the season with the chief magistrate, his wife and one

Eight thousand and one hundred people by actual count passed through the doors of the white house the greatest crowd ever known on like occasions. Every one of the shook the hands of the head of the state and when the last of the line had passed the young and athletic president appeared no more weary than when he began his herculean task.

Silent Salute to Miles

The incident of the day was course the reception of Lieutenant General Miles and Admiral Dewey. As the last of the congressional contingent filed away there was a momentary pause. The president turned and greeted gayly with Mr. Roosevelt and her assistants. Nearly a minute, and then the state form of the lieutenant general commanding the army appeared at the entrance of the blue room, and the whole company came to rigid attention. General Miles advanced sedately and with military bearing. He greeted his commander-in-chief with grave courtesy, which President Roosevelt accepted silently. The meeting could not be described as a triumph on either side. It was a silent salute, however. Not a word was spoken.

As General Miles passed on, the crowd of guests greeted him heartily. He extended his hand to clasp that of the soldier, with a deep and cordial bow murmured his compliments, which General Miles returned vivaciously. The tall form of the soldier then passed down the line and quickly disappeared from view. General Miles did not enter the east room, where the guests were assembled, but to see like the gallant gentleman he is, he does not carry his resentment into society. He joined the throng of women who made a bank of beauty, the receiving line.

Cordial to Dewey
When the admiral of the navy, the head of the sea fighters, came forward the president extended his hand in cordial fashion and exclaimed: "Happy New Year, admiral! wishes for the coming year!"
The hero of Manila Bay returned the greeting quite as cordially. In his honor Mrs. Roosevelt again took her rule and shook hands with the admiral of the navy. Mrs. Roosevelt was greeted by both President and Mrs. Roosevelt in the warmest

WELCOME TO
HAPPY NEW YEAR

Fellows Have a Merry Time at the East Side Hall on New Years Night.

Today was the new year welcomed at East Side Odd Fellows' hall last evening by a merry gathering of Odd Fellows and Daughters of Rebekah, Wisconsin Lodge, No. 14, I. O. O. F., and America Lodge, No. 26, D. O. R., kept open house for all the Odd Fellows and Rebekahs in the city, the special guests of honor being Jamesville Lodge, No. 90, I. O. O. F., and Janesville Lodge, No. 171, D. O. R. The assembled company was a large one and everyone had a jolly good time.

The first part of the evening was devoted to a musical and literary program, Mrs. F. P. Starr presiding in pleasing manner. The program opened with a selection by an orchestra of five pieces from the State School for the Blind. The young gentlemen played excellently and the selection was highly appreciated.

The address of welcome was ably given by W. P. McIntyre, who took occasion to speak of the growth and value of the fraternity of Odd Fellows. He welcomed the guests cordially. The response was given in a semi-humorous vein by James A. Fathers, representing the visiting lodges.

One of the best numbers was the vocal selection by a quartet including Miss Cora Anderson, Mrs. Fanny L. Clark, Frank Smith and A. Crawford. Miss Ada Pond played the piano accompaniment for this beautiful number.

Little Miss Alta Berg recited a story of Christmas very cunningly after which the orchestra played another selection, which was well received.

A. N. Fisher then responded to the subject "Our Better Natures" in an eloquent eulogy of the women during which he cited some instances of the great and noble work which they have done in the world.

E. O. Smith's pleasing tenor voice was heard to good advantage in "The Star Song," his piano accompaniment being played by Miss Olive Trambille, and the song being followed by Miss Clara Schwartz with a recitation who told amusingly of the wees of a small girl whose mother had forbidden her to kiss the boys.

"Chips" was the subject given by P. Starr to speak on and he combined serious eulogy of the Odd Fellows of the city and the harmonious spirit of push, energy and enthusiasm which prevails among them, with personal stories at the expense of members of the lodge. Of course James A. Fathers received a run on his sixteen Christmas dogs and after Mr. Starr had finished, the presiding officer gave Mr. Fathers an opportunity to explain about his canine family. Mr. Fathers, however, said he would be "dogged" if he would, a statement which was greeted with loud laughter and applause.

The program closed with a reading by Mrs. J. B. Day who gave "The Old Actor's Story" in her accustomed talented manner. So delighted was the audience that an encore was enthusiastically insisted upon and Mrs. Day finally responded with a pretty selection, "Goodbye, God Bless You."

After the program the balance of the evening was given over to dancing, the State school orchestra furnishing most excellent music. The floor was in splendid condition and the dancing so enjoyable that the guests heard the "Home, Sweet Home" waltz with evident reluctance. The company dispersed feeling that the East Side lodges had once more given excellent proof of their ability as royal entertainers.

Third Man On Engine.
The Railway Review comes out with what would appear to be a very sensible suggestion. It suggests that, as the work of the engine man has increased to so large an extent, of recent years, that a third man be put on the engine with the duties of a lookout. The Review calls attention to the fact that in by yon times the fireman had much less work than he now has and a good

A HARD
STRUGGLE

Many a Janesville Citizen find the struggle hard

With a back constantly aching,
With distressing urinary disorders
Daily existence is but a struggle.
No need to keep it up.

Doan's Kidney Pills will cure you.
Janesville people endorse this claim.

Mr. H. P. Hanson, of 103 Pleasant St., engineer, employed at the Janesville Machine Co., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills did me all the good that could be expected and I recommend them to any one who may be troubled with lame back or any kidney disorder. After procuring them at the People's drug store and taking them I felt better, my back did not ache like it did, and I did not rise in the morning with a lame and sore back. I suffered from these symptoms for four or five years and I was more than pleased at the results obtained from the use of Doan's Kidney Pills."

deal of his time could be spent on the bench looking out and adding the engineer. The engineer also has more parts to care for and cannot do out as thoroughly as he should.

So it suggests that a lookout be named as a third man of the engine crew, he to be a man who knows the run as well as the engineer and can tell at once if anything is wrong. His place might be in the cab, but the Review suggests that a cage be built for him on the front end and signals arranged between him and the engineer. It says that many of the recent accidents would have been avoided if there had been some person to add the engineer and let him take care of his machine without having also to keep both eyes ahead.

CHRISTMAS PARTY
AT CHRIST CHURCH

The last afternoon of the old year was spent very happily at Christ church parish house, the Christmas party given by Rev. and Mrs. A. H. Harrington, assisted by several members of the church, being a delightful success. The guests at the party were mostly children who do not belong to any Sunday school and thus did not have a part in the Christmas entertainments given in the various Sunday schools. They were given many delightful surprises.

The company assembled at the parish house at 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, feasting their eyes on two brilliantly lighted and decorated Christmas trees which were laden with toys and useful gifts.

A brief program was given, including a recitation of "The Story of the Christ Child," told by several little girls from the Christ church Sunday school and also selections on the gramophone. After the program the presents from the tree were distributed and the heart of every child was gladdened with new shoes, rubbers, material for a new dress, suits of clothing or some other equally handsome and useful articles.

ALD. HUTCHINSON
GETS A SURPRISE

A number of friends of Alderman J. F. Hutchinson gave him a pleasant surprise Tuesday night by dropping in and taking possession of his home. The gathering was in honor of the genial alderman's forty-fifth birthday which his friends decided should be celebrated in a fitting manner.

The evening was pleasantly spent in games of various kinds and delicious refreshments were served and enjoyed by all.

As a remembrance of the occasion the guests presented Alderman Hutchinson with a handsome watch chain and chain which was securely placed away in a small box with sixteen larger ones outside of it. The outside box was nearly as large as a Saratoga trunk and it took some time to reach the small box in the center of the pile.

Annual A. O. H. Dance.
The annual dancing party of the A. O. H. held Tuesday evening at Assembly hall was a success in every particular. Over one hundred couples were present and danced the old year out and the new year in. Everything that could be done to add to the enjoyment of those present was looked after by the committees in charge of the party. At 12 o'clock the dancing ceased for an hour while lunch was indulged in. The party broke up about three o'clock and all were well satisfied with their night's pleasure.

The obvious complaint on all this nonsense is that something should be done to restrain corporation officials of every kind from practicing on children with their germs, bacilli, and assorted viruses. AN OPEN LETTER
TO MAYOR SMITH

Beloit Ministers Want the Gambling
Houses and Other Places of Immorality Closed.

Beloit, Jan. 2.—The Beloit Ministerial union addressed an open letter to Mayor Smith, asking him to take action in the matter of closing gambling houses and other places of immorality which they allege exist in this city. The letter is as follows:

"Hon. Simon Smith, mayor of Beloit: Dear Sir: After you met at their request, some of the city ministers last winter, when the matter was fully discussed we hoped for an improvement in the repression of public vice in the city. We have been disappointed; good men generally, in the city have been disappointed. Matters have grown worse instead of better. The violations of law are said by men, business men of standing and character, men who should know, to be open and rampant. The laws against gambling, resorts, houses and other resorts of prostitution, and the opening of saloons on the Sabbath and after licensed hours are treated with contempt. At home and abroad it is freely said that this is a 'wide-open town.' We cannot learn that the situation is materially improved since our appeal to you on the 22d inst., although it is reported that orders have been issued the past week not to permit minors in billiard and pool rooms.

"If, in this condition of things, the city government, in a special session, is responsible, you, as the executive head of the government, are preeminently responsible.

"You have a trained and a competent police force at your direction. You can give it such orders that within twenty-four hours law-breakers will understand that notice is served on them that the laws for the protection of the public morals are to be executed. We have confidence that such an order will be faithfully and effectively carried out by the police.

"We unite, therefore, in calling upon you to issue such an order without unnecessary delay."

City treasurer Love Monday received over $12,000 tax money, which is one of the heaviest day's business ever done by a Beloit treasurer. The receipts Tuesday were also large. After the 1st of year the collector's premium will be larger.

Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Waterman celebrated their 61st wedding anniversary Tuesday. But one of the children Mrs. Chas. E. Whitman of St. Louis was able to be present and the day was passed quietly owing to the state of Mr. Waterman's health which is not at all good.

The wedding of D. H. Pollock, the well-known Beloit alderman and druggist and Miss Florence Stetson occurs at Lima Centre at the home of the bride's parents.

ODD FELLOWS.

Fraternity Teaches the Best Uses of Money—Triple Link Notes.

Money and power are too often esteemed as the only source of happiness, while the truth is that neither produces real happiness except when wisely used in helping others, says Odd Fellows Herald. Odd Fellowship teaches the great lesson of the charitable use of our money and our powers as a source of true happiness in the relief of the distressed, the care and education of the orphan and the maintenance and protection of the old and indigent.

True Odd Fellows measure their lives by the fetters they break off, by the garments they put on nakedness, by the miles they travel to alleviate every kind of suffering.

Previous to 1888 members of the Rebekah degree received the degree in subordinate lodges.

The total receipts for the year of the grand lodge of Illinois were $69,919.35, and the total disbursements were $58,222.81, showing a balance on the right side.

The grand lodge of Tennessee at the recent session held at Chattanooga re-elected James B. Harwell as grand secretary and John L. Nolen as grand representative to the sovereign grand lodge.

Every branch of the order in Quebec is looking up, and the attendance is steadily improving.

Over $7,000 was expended last year for sick benefits in the jurisdiction of Manitoba.

There are 3,034 Odd Fellows in the province of Quebec in forty lodges; $11,445 was paid out for relief last year; total assets of subordinate lodges, $84,130.

AMUSEMENT NOTES.

The cast for "Florodora" which is to be given in this city for the first time next Monday night, is one of exceptional talent, good looks and singing ability. Miss Maude Lambert, who has just returned from Continental Europe, where she went for additional tuition after several successful years as a prima donna in this country, is one of the members. Another is Miss Grace Dudley, who was the Lady Hollywood of the New York Casino's original production, for many weeks, with eminent success. Still another is Miss Frances Gordon, a young English girl brought to America specially for the role of Angela Gilfrain. Another rising star is Miss Ina Doerge, who excels as a singer, and dancer of prepossessing appearance and grace.

W. T. Carleton, who will be Cyrus Graham, was for many years the star of his own opera company in this country. Philip H. Ryley, who will be the Anthony Tweedledeech, is one of the very best character comedians in the world, and won his place several years ago in the Hoyt farces and in other more ambitious lines of work. Other principals include Charles H. Bowers, whose voice is a treat to hear, and Lewis Hooper, the stage manager of the original company which produced the musical play at the Lyric theater, in London.

"John Henshaw, Eddie Foy, Marie George and other 'Strollers' amused a large audience at the Illinois theater last night. Won hearty applause. A feature of the piece of the scenery. Nothing more pleasing or unique has been seen in Chicago in many a day. Hosts of pretty girls."

FIRE PANIC IN A NEW YORK HOTEL

Three Hundred Guests Flee from Building in Their Night Garments.

MANY OF THE WOMEN FAINT.

Morton House in New York City in Danger When Keith's Union Square
Theater Is Alarmed—All Forced to Seek
Other Lodgings.

New York, Jan. 2.—Three hundred guests of the Morton House and all the employees were driven in panic to the street by a fire in Keith's Union Square Theater early this morning. Many women fainted and had to be carried out by the firemen and police. Before all those in the hotel were aroused smoke had filled the halls and it was believed the building was doomed, as it was practically a part of the same structure as the theater.

Escape in Night Garments.

Few had time to save their belongings, and nearly all were clad only in their night garments when they reached the sidewalk. Two small store buildings to the east of the theater were destroyed while the firemen were fighting the flames in the basement of the playhouse. For a time the fire threatened to spread in both directions, laying low all the buildings in that vicinity. The flames were first seen by the engineer of the Morton House, and he gave the alarm. The guests were aroused and hurried from their rooms, to find the halls filled with smoke. They groped their way to the street, and it is believed all got out in safety. The excitement in the hotel was added to by the firemen dragging long lines of hose through the halls so that they could get the streams to play on the rear of the theater.

Women Faint: Carried Out.

There were wild scenes in the hotel as the guests, porters, waiters and maids ran screaming to the street. Many of the women fainted and were carried out, but a search of the hotel seemed to satisfy the police that all were able to reach places of safety. The guests of the Morton House were taken to other hotels in the vicinity to be cared for, and many of the men had time to go back to their rooms to save their valuables. The fire started in the storage-room adjoining the engine-room of the theater. Within twenty minutes after its discovery it had spread upstairs, eating its way to the stores adjoining on the east. The Morton House is on the west.

Two Store Buildings Destroyed.

The clothing store of Benson & Co. was soon destroyed, as was the elgar store of Manuel Diaz. The rapidly with which the flames spread through the basement was because of a quantity of oils, paints and a huge mass of scenery which was in the storage room. The fumes and gases from this inflammable stuff hampered the firemen in their work, as they were repeatedly driven from the basement to the street. While the department was trying to overcome the blaze in the basement a number of firemen went into the main portion of the theater and from the stage carried out the tanks containing seventeen seas comprising Woodward's troupe.

Fireproof Floor May Save Block.

Meanwhile lines of hose were carried on the stage and held in readiness should the flames break through the floor from the basement. This basement is called fireproof. It was one mass of flames from end to end.

and on the strength of its fireproof qualities depended the safety of the theater proper. At 3 o'clock the flames had not broken through.

DOES NOT DISAPPOINT.

The New Discovery for Catarrh Seems to Possess Remarkable Merit. A new catarrh cure has recently appeared which so far as tested has been remarkably successful in curing all forms of catarrh, whether in the head, throat, bronchial tubes or in stomach and liver.

The remedy is in tablet form, pleasant and convenient to take and no special secrecy is maintained as to what it contains, the tablet being a scientific combination of Blood root, Red Gum and similar valuable and harmless antiseptics.

The safe and effective catarrh cure may be found at any drug store under the name of Stuart's Catarrh Tablets.

Whether the catarrh is located in the nose, throat, bronchial tubes, or stomach, the tablets seem to act with equal success, removing the stuffy feeling in head and nose, clearing the mucous membrane of throat and trachea from catarrhal secretions which cause the tickling, hacking and gagging so annoying to every catarrh sufferer.

Nasal catarrh generally leads to ulceration, in some cases to such an extent as to destroy the nose entirely and in many old cases of catarrh the bones of the head become diseased. Nasal catarrh gradually extends to the throat and bronchial tubes and very often to the stomach, causing that very obstinate trouble, catarrh of the stomach.

Catarrh is a systemic poisoning, inherent in the blood, and local washes, douches, salves, inhalers and sprays can have no effect on the real cause of the disease. An internal remedy which acts on the blood is the only rational treatment and Stuart's Catarrh Tablets is the safest of all internal remedies, as well as the most convenient and satisfactory from a medical standpoint.

Dr. Eaton recently stated that he had successfully used Stuart's Catarrh Tablets in old chronic cases, even where ulceration had extended so far as to destroy the septum of the nose. He says: "I am pleasantly surprised almost every day by the excellent results from Stuart's Catarrh Tablets. It is remarkable how effectively they remove the excessive secretion and bring about a healthy condition of the mucous membranes of the nose, throat and stomach."

All druggists sell complete treatment of the tablets at 50 cents and a little book giving the symptoms and causes of the various forms of catarrh, will be mailed free by addressing F. A. Hart Co., Marshall, Mich.

Exporting California Redwood.

A great business is being built up in shipping California redwood to Central and South America and the Orient. It is soft and easy to work, many trees are sixteen feet in diameter and 200 feet high. Redwood resists decay and fire and is one of the most enduring woods. All the Pacific coast railroads use redwood ties and large quantities have been shipped to Mexico, South America and India.

Mountain of Rich Iron.

On the eastern side of the San Joaquin Valley, California, is a mountain of rich iron ore containing above the surface, according to experts, 2,500,000 tons of iron ore, which lies in broad veins 300 to 500 feet wide. It is 63.3 iron, almost as rich as the richest Lake Superior ores.

King Edward's Exclusiveness.

Like King Edward, King Victor Emmanuel is engaged in a very radical weeding out of the invitation list of his court. In the days of King Humbert almost anybody could secure an invitation to court balls, especially if a foreigner, and the guests as a general rule numbered 3,000 or 4,000.

A Prominent Chicago Woman Speaks.

Prof. Roxa Taylor of Chicago, vice-president Illinois Woman's Alliance, in speaking of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, says: "I suffered with a severe cold this winter which threatened to run into pneumonia. I tried different remedies, but I seemed to grow worse and the medicine upset my stomach. A friend advised me to try Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and I found it was pleasant to take and relieved me at once. I am now entirely recovered, saved a doctor's bill, time and suffering, and I will never be without this splendid medicine again." For sale by People's Drug Store and King's Pharmacy.

When a woman is nervous her imagination gives fantastic and threatening shapes to the most familiar objects. By day she starts in fear at every sudden or unfamiliar sound. By night the furniture of her room takes on affrighting forms of ghost or goblin. You can't reason with the nerves. Neither logic nor love can quiet them. They must be nourished and then the outcry of the nerves will cease as naturally as a hungry child ceases to cry when fed.

For nervous women there is no better tonic and nerve than Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It cures the diseases which produce nervousness in women, irregularity, debilitating drains, inflammation, ulceration and female weakness. It tranquilizes the nerves, encourages the appetite, and induces refreshing sleep.

"When I began taking your medicine I was not able to stand on my feet ten minutes at a time," writes Mrs. Mattie Borradale, of 113 Spring Street, Nashville, Tenn. "I had falling of uterus, and kidney and liver disease, and was so weak and nervous I could not keep still. Would take nervous spells and almost die at times. I had several different doctors attending, but they could not do me any good. The last one I had said I would never get up again. Told him that I was taking your 'Favorite Prescription' and 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and he said, 'Might just as well take that much water each day.' But I thought I would give the medicine a fair trial. Before I had finished the first two bottles I was able to get outside the house and walk around the yard. I kept on taking the medicines and they cured me."

This is the greatest remedy ever made."

will do for every woman what it did for the Minnesota mother who writes the above letter. Not to use it during pregnancy is a mistake to be paid for in pain and suffering.

Mother's Friend equips the patient with a strong body and clear intellect, which in turn are imparted to the child. It relaxes the muscles and allows them to expand. It relieves morning sickness and nervousness. It puts all the organs concerned in perfect condition for the final hour, so that the actual labor is short and practically painless. Danger of rising or hard breasts is altogether avoided, and recovery is merely a matter of a few days.

WEATHER FORECAST.

Fair, decidedly colder tonight and Friday.

AN HONEST CRITIC.

The Janesville Gazette, although avowedly a supporter of the league movement, and therefore opposed to the governor, endeavors with commendable honesty to be strictly fair and honest about it, and thereby sets an example which some of the other papers in the state, and on both sides of the discussion for that matter, do well to study and follow. The position of The Gazette is very nicely stated in its own words when it says: "The governor is universally respected as a man, but before he commands confidence as a leader, it will be necessary for him to change front and come down out of the clouds and fog, that have thus far characterized his administration."

No one, not even the governor, himself, can take serious offense at that kind of criticism, in fact it is honest criticism of this nature which enable a man to see and appreciate his own shortcomings, thereby giving him a chance to correct them. If the governor has really been "up in the clouds" to an extent that it has proven an offense to some of our plain every-day mortals whose regular motto is "Business is Business," and who have no time or inclination to chase about in the realms of idealism for real or imaginary benefits, The Gazette can be considered as little less than a genuine friend of the governor to tell him so in good plain English and advise him, as it has done, to "change front and come down."

One honest critic like this will do more good to the governor and the whole party than four score scheming politicians who may plan to work some personal advantage out of their opposition. For The Gazette is honest enough to plainly admit that as a man the governor is universally respected, and that it is merely the methods of his leadership that are objectionable. If the other opponents of the governor were inclined to be as honest as The Gazette there would be no trouble in arranging all party differences in short order, for many of the best friends of the governor are not blinded to his faults and might join with others in honest criticism provided the radical extremists did not try to turn it into personal abuse. It is merely another case where good intentions have been crowded to a point so unreasonable and extreme that honest people cannot support the movement, and it is bound to fail.—Oshkosh Northwestern.

The Northwestern, while classed as a supporter of the administration, has never descended to the level of personal abuse, for which the "organs" are noted.

The Oshkosh paper has been fair and is credited with honesty of purpose in the course pursued.

A careful reading of the comments attached, indicates that the paper is not in sympathy with the attitude of the governor, and that it will not support him at the expense of party welfare.

It is not a pleasant task for any public journal to oppose the administration of a man whom it supported for office. It means demoralization to the party, and a family quarrel, that is never profitable, and always unseemly.

The republican press of the state was loyal to the governor throughout the campaign, and it was cause for regret, when it felt compelled, in the interests of party welfare, to withdraw support, and condemn the radical and impractical measures advanced.

The best friends that the governor has in the state today are the men and the papers who honestly differ with him. A man's public life is an open book subject to endorsement or disapproval, and every public man expects a liberal share of both.

Governor La Follette's life as chief executive is no exception to the rule. His personal character and private life are above reproach, but his public career is checked, because of radicalism, and impractical theories.

No self-respecting republican journal, possessing independence of thought, and untrammelled by obligation, can afford to endorse the man as governor, however much his character and strong personality may be admired.

The Northwestern realizes this fact and the governor will not be disappointed if the paper fails to stand by him at the expense of party welfare.

UNJUST CRITICISM.

The Chicago Tribune devoted a column editorially last Sunday to criticizing President Roosevelt, for sustaining Secretary Long of the navy in his ruling in the Sampson-Schley controversy.

The criticism is unjust for the reason that Secretary Long is a member of the president's political household. The officers of the navy are subordinate to him, and the president could not do less than support him.

Secretary Long may not be a good cabinet official. It is generally conceded that he has made some weak rulings, and issued some foolish orders. It is doubtless true that his resignation would not result in ous loss, and that his place could be readily filled.

While all this may be true, it is equally true that he is holding a portfolio, that commands respect by even the president.

The attitude assumed is occasion for commendation rather than criticism. The president understands that public sympathy is with Schley and Dewey. If he was actuated by policy, he would follow his own inclinations and decide against his cabinet officers. But he is great enough to sacrifice personal feeling, in the interest of justice.

The president realizes that the country has been annoyed and disgusted with an unseemly fight in a naval court, and that the American navy has suffered in consequence. It was time to call a halt, and if the call was vigorous, it was effective, and meets with general approval. The Tribune is noted for dictation. It assumes more wisdom than the president, and has long been recognized as the censor in state and municipal government. This is the weak point of an otherwise strong public journal.

Wisconsin has had an extensive experience with home companies. Some of the results are embalmed, as the records show.

The nearly $400,000,000 of fire insurance required annually by the citizens of the state is furnished chiefly by other state companies.

Wisconsin belongs in the class of states that believe that the fire insurance business can stand any amount of taxation.

A bill was introduced there recently, providing for a tax of 4 per cent. on the gross premiums of foreign fire insurance companies.

How would a Wisconsin merchant feel if he were asked to pay $4 in taxes out of every $100 of receipts over his counter?

Taxation of this sort helps to explain why the expense ratios of fire insurance companies are large.

The Superior papers are eligible for places in the kindergarten class in insurance, viz:

Superior Telegram: It is rumored that the insurance companies during the last year took from Superior about $350,000 in premiums. About $30,000 was returned because of fire losses. This, if true, would leave a margin of something over $300,000 which would go a long way to make up for the losses sustained by the companies in cities where the fire protection is not as adequate as that of Superior.

Superior Leader: One of the factors that should be taken into consideration in discussing the elements that affect Superior's growth, is the large amount of money that goes out of the city annually for fire insurance. In speaking of this we have no criticisms to make of the great corporations that are carrying such insurance, except that their rates are very high.

While insurance companies cannot make a rate that will give satisfaction to every one, it is very evident that in Superior during the year closing, the amount of money sent out in premiums is so disproportionate to the losses paid, that could the figures be given, they would be startling.

In Montreal, Jacksonville, and in hundreds of cities every year, this remark might fairly and thankfully be made: "The amount of insurance money received by our citizens is so disproportionate to the premiums paid by them that could the figures be given they would be startling."

It may be Superior's turn next to bless insurance for bringing money into the town.—The Insurance Press.

Wisconsin will come to her senses under a more conservative administration, and corporations will receive better treatment. The state is not a second Kansas, although it possesses many of the symptoms at the present time.

WHAT CAN I ACCOMPLISH?

The motto of every toiler, for the year 1902, whether it be with hand or brain, or both, should be, not how many hours can I work to fill a contract, but what can I accomplish for myself by faithful service? The world is too full of people in every department of life, who are time servers. Clerks who watch the clock more than they do customers, mechanics who listen for the whistle with more interest than any event that transpires during the day, men and women in almost every line of industry, whose greatest effort in life is to see how little they can accomplish for the wage received.

More failures, to win prizes are due to this sort of indifference, than to all other causes combined. Every industry and every business enterprise, has use for men and women, who take the same interest in their work, as they would if they were the owners of the plant. The industrial world has many representatives of this class and the number is increasing every year.

Responsibility and success comes to the man whose principal thought is, What can I accomplish? How can I best serve myself by rendering faithful and intelligent service? What can I do to advance the interests of my employer?

When work is prompted by these sentiments it is as sure to find ward as time is to continue. The hand may be ever so deft, but unless the brain and heart enter into the work, results will never be startling, and disappointment will follow. Make the three-fold investment, commencing today, and see where you will land at the close of the year.

Blue cattle, with pink feet and red horns, will no longer annoy the dreams of Chicago youngsters. The new text books provide that the teachers shall know enough about stock to recognize a dairy maid at short range, and to tell when a bovine is out on dress parade. "The urdule cow with crumpled horn," is better than painted imitations, or visual demonstrations.

Miss Healy of Chicago school fame, is wasting time in the school room. She ought to hang out her shingle as a corporation lawyer. When she succeeds in driving the evil out of Illinois, she can come up and chase around Wisconsin and help the governor in his reform movements.

Mr. Payne, the newly appointed postmaster general, is in great demand as an advisor. His presence in the cabinet will be appreciated, and he will be found equal to emergencies. Mr. Payne's many friends have the feeling, that he is the right man in the right place.

That the treasury portfolio will be in safe hands is not an open question, with the friends of the new incumbent, Leslie M. Shaw, of Iowa. Mr. Shaw is a man of hard, practical common sense, and he will bring to the office a wealth of experience that has contributed to success.

In the death of Frank Peavy, the Minneapolis elevator man, Minnesota has lost one of her most enterprising citizens. Mr. Peavy is a self-made man, and enjoyed the confidence of a large circle of friends. He carried life insurance to the amount of $1,300,000.

Four western governors are in session in Montana for the purpose of defeating Morgan and Hill, in their effort to consolidate the Northern Pacific and Burlington. They are entitled to fail.

The captured Leavenworth convicts are evidently not subdued. A plot has just been discovered for a second escape. A little hemp and a short ceremony will be necessary to final adjustment.

Mr. Bryan's Commemorative is said to have a paid circulation of about 10,000, rather a poor showing for the free silver movement, with a constituency of 6,000,000 to draw on.

The many friends of ex-Governor Scofield will be pleased to know that he is on the way to recovery.

PRESS COMMENT.

Milwaukee Journal: After those Leavenworth convicts have tried escaping from Warden McClaughey a few times more, they will either be dead or otherwise peaceable.

Gov. La Follette may imagine he has a patent on all the political honesty there is in Wisconsin. But he is mistaken; there is a vast amount of it lying around that is common property.—Tcmah Monitor.

Senator Spooner still seems to hold his place among the leaders in the upper house of congress in spite of the claims of the Free Press. La Follette's mouthpiece.—Sparta Advertiser.

The manufacturers of oleomargarine are even accused of putting hairs in their product in order to stimulate the real product. This is one thing which the anti-oleomargarine people should look into without delay.—Oshkosh Northwestern.

When will the governor's lieutenants commence the work of organizing the "fair-minded" populists? Possibly it is not necessary, for this element may already be included in the ranks. They can, however, commence work on the "fair-minded" prohibitionists.—Waukesha Freeman.

And so this big state of Wisconsin should have at its head a man who rode into the office on pledges of principle, which, like the wonder of one horse shay, have gone all to pieces. A man who has one big idea of one small man—a man who listens to no advice—knows, no friend except the one who does his bidding blind to its effect or rightness. Oh! no the state of Wisconsin is composed of men who are too broad for that.—Waupaca Record.

Republicans will not be apt to forget that the party is greater than any one man, and that the man who starts a fight with the majority, as represented in the legislature, must go down in the nature of events. The political experience of many who have aspired to that kind of honors only goes to show that when a man is so bound up in selfish motives that he does not heed the wish of the majority of his constituents, they will be pretty sure to remember the same when he asks for further favors.—Reedsburg Free Press.

The story is being told of a Shelbyville young man who went to make his usual night call on his sweetheart. The youngster was met at the door by the man of the house. This is what he said: "Young man, I do not object to your calling on my daughter, but you will have to make your little bow and hit the ground on this occasion, as we are going to have a select party."

no one is invited but two old women and the doctor.—Kansas City Star.

Evening Wisconsin: Representative Babcock's plan of revising the tariff at the present session of congress meets with very little favor from the republican members of the house. Out of the 190 members, it is not supposed that more than 12 favor the Babcock scheme. The Ways and Means committee is certainly against his proposition. Therefore Mr. Babcock has concluded to make an appeal to a republican caucus which will be called when congress reassembles. People will watch the result with interest, as the defeat of the Babcock proposition would settle the so-called tariff revision for this session at least.

LAID DOWN LIFE

FOR HIS COUNTRY

Advice From Milwaukee States That Edward P. Salsman Has Died From Effect of Wounds.

The name of a former Janesville boy has been added to the list of heroes who, far away from home and native land, have laid down their lives for the honor and glory of their country and their tars and stripes. Sergeant Edward P. Salsman, youngest son of T. J. Salsman, died in the military hospital at Tangorran, Philippine Islands, on the third of November. His death was caused by lock-jaw, resulting from the wound he received in October, when he was shot in the leg by insurgents, the wound made being as large as a baseball. The limb was amputated, but the operation failed to save Sergeant Salsman's life. News of his death has just been received by relatives in Milwaukee in a letter from James O. Ross, first lieutenant, Fifteenth cavalry, commanding troop D. Sergeant Salsman had served in the Philippines about a year and had many times distinguished himself by his bravery. His death will be learned with sorrow by many friends in this city where he spent several years of his boyhood.

SEEING BY TELEPHONE

Dr. Sylvestre Claims That This Is Possible.

A FAIRY TALE, SAYS PROF. BELL.

Paris Inventor Claims It Will Do Away With the Telegraph and Will Only Cost About $2.50—Colors, Figures and Details Thrown Upon a Sheet—Bell Regards It as an Absurdity.

Dr. Sylvestre, the inventor who claims to have found out how to see by the telephone, has just described to the Paris correspondent of the New York World his discovery, which, he declares, was a matter of chance. He said:

"There is no reason why, as soon as telephonic cables are established between Paris and New York, we should not see our friends there as easily as I see you."

"I have already seen the Marseilles Telephone Exchange from this room by means of my apparatus, and I have chatted by telephone with M. Mougeot, the French postmaster general, watched his astonishment and described his appearance, his clothes and his office as we talked."

"I cannot work my apparatus for you yet, because I am in treaty with the French postoffice people, and the method is so simple that if I showed it to you you yourself could go away and make an apparatus just like it."

"I may well confess I do not altogether understand my own invention. I discovered it quite by accident, although it acts quite perfectly and shows colors of all kinds with absolute faithfulness and very vividly. I am not scientist enough to explain how or why it acts exactly as it does."

"Six weeks ago I was in my laboratory enameling some teeth and was sitting over a big stove. There was no light in the room excepting what the stove gave. The walls of my laboratory are white. My job was a long and wearisome one, and as we have a 'theatrephone' at my flat, I had myself connected with the opera and was listening to Griseldi while I waited for the enamel to melt."

"Suddenly I noticed colors and figures on the wall in front of me. I put down the 'theatrephone.' They disappeared."

"I took it up again, and again I saw the figures and this time much more distinctly. Then I both heard and watched the whole act of the opera sitting in my chair before that stove."

"The spectrophone was invented. I had found out how to see by telephone. For a fortnight I worked over my invention day and night. Then on the 21st of last month (November), my apparatus being perfected, I wrote M. Mougeot, the French postmaster general, and asked him to receive me. I have seen him several times. I am now in treaty with the French government for a 'cession' of my invention, for which I want $5,000,000."

"I have tried the apparatus several times since under all sorts of circumstances, and it has never failed me. Space is annihilated by the spectrophone, and the thing itself is so absurdly simple that the apparatus will only cost about $3.75. My invention practically does away with telegrams. Put a written communication in front of the looking glass at the London end of a wire, and your correspondent in Paris will see it quite distinctly at his end. As soon as my contract with the French government for $5,000,000 is signed I mean to give an immense show in the Galerie des Jardins Champs des Mars to all who care to come. There on an enormous sheet I will show what my apparatus will do."

This is what Dr. Sylvestre showed the correspondent: A small circular mirror with a hole in the center, into which is screwed a tiny electric light of 1.10 candle power. This is fixed to a telephone's microphone plate by an india rubber band. A pencil-like instrument connects the current with the apparatus. Two acids are allowed to mix drop by drop in a torpedolike machine about three inches long. This process throws what Dr. Sylvestre terms a phosphorescent flame on the looking glass connected with the poles and pencil, and a sheet of any white, semi-transparent tissue placed before the glass shows the room in which the other person is telephoning, no matter how many miles away that person may be."

Professor Alexander Graham Bell, the inventor of the telephone, recently read with much interest the cable from Paris telling of the alleged discovery by Dr. Sylvestre of a process that enabled him to see by telephone. After reading the dispatch Professor Bell made the following statement to the Washington correspondent of the above mentioned paper:

"The idea of seeing by telephone has attained its majority. It is now twenty-one years of age. Seeing by telephone or by telegraph may be within the range of the possible. I say that because nothing is impossible until it has been demonstrated so to be. Seeing by either of these instrumentalities, however, is, as I look upon it, so far removed from the field of probability that I should treat any report of this character as an absurdity."

"The idea of seeing by telephone is a newspaper product and was credited to myself. Twenty-one years ago, early in 1880, I made an important invention, based upon my discovery of the possibility of transmitting sound by the agency of a beam of light, utilizing the remarkable property of selenium, whose electrical resistance is varied by the action of light. This, as is known, was subsequently perfected by me, and to science today as the 'theatrephone.' "At that time I was preparing to publish the results I had obtained. I therefore filed a secret package in the Smithsonian Institution which detailed the secret I had discovered. It so happened that in the meantime the public was willing to believe anything about electricity or the telephone. The fact that I had deposited this package got out, and some newspaper writer who knew something of electricity published a story."

"His story was to the effect that Dr. H. E. Licks of Bethlehem, Pa., had succeeded, by the aid of the telephone, in projecting upon a screen a real live image of a cat. The name of the man who I had deposited this package at all events, the papers took it up, and out of that grew the story of being able to see by telephone."

"This cable from Paris is the same old story. It has occasionally cropped out since 1880, usually every four or five years. In one form or another, I must confess that I do not believe Dr. Sylvestre has made such a discovery as he has led the correspondent to write about. There is nothing in the story as I read it to indicate that it is any more than a 'fairy tale.'"

Putting it Right. "I didn't get home till dawn yesterday morning."

"What did your wife say?" "That's the wrong way to put it. What didn't she say?—Philadelphia Times."

FRANK H. PEAVEY DEAD.

Head of the World's Greatest System of Grain Elevators Passes Away.

Chicago, Dec. 31.—Frank H. Peavey, head of the Peavey grain company, died at the Auditorium Annex yesterday. Pneumonia, with which Mr. Peavey had been confined to his room since Dec. 22, was the cause of death.

Mr. Peavey's residence was in Minneapolis, but he was well known among financiers and business men in all parts of the United States. His system of grain elevators is the largest in the world.

Mr. Peavey carried among other life insurance policies for $1,600,000 in a New York company.

Big Land Is Ordered.

Madison, Wis., Dec. 31.—In accordance with a decree entered by Judge Romanzo Bunn in the federal court for the western district of Wisconsin, the vast real estate holdings and personal property of the Superior Consolidated Land company are to be sold at public sale next month. The proceeds are to be used in liquidating the company's liabilities, amounting to $400,000. The property has been in the hands of receivers for five years and the decree is in conformity with an agreement among the principal creditors.

RAPID SEAT SALE FOR FLORODORA

Box Office Will Open Tomorrow Morning at 10 O'clock—Will Meet With Success.

The subscription sale of seats for Florodora will open at box office tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock and all those who have signed the subscription list are requested to procure their seats tomorrow as the general advance sale will open on Saturday morning at the same hour. Manager Myers has met with great success and the long list of signatures on the subscription list gives promise that the standing room sign will be brought into use next Monday evening. Everyone wants to see Florodora which is undoubtedly the biggest musical comedy attraction of the year. The company is the same which appears in the largest cities and the scale of prices is the same as for the metropolitan theaters. The Myers Grand has been divided as follows: the first eight rows in the orchestra, $2; balance of the orchestra, the orchestra circle and the first four rows in the balcony, $1.50; next three rows of the balcony, $1.00; balance of balcony, 75 cents; box seats, $2.50.

Mrs. Jacob Bender Dead
Word was received in the city today of the death of Jacob Bender, for many years a highly respected resident of this city, the sad event occurring at her home in Port Angeles, Wash., last Friday morning, Dec. 27. Mrs. Bender was about seventy-five years of age and during her long residence in this city she surrounded herself with a circle of friends who loved and esteemed her in life and who will ever cherish the memory of her kind words and generous deeds. Mrs. Bender was twice married. She leaves one son, August Peppy, of Milwaukee, by her first marriage and seven children by her second marriage. They are Jacob, Albert and Otto Bender, Mrs. Emma Bird and Misses Julia and Lizzie Bender, all of Washington and Will Bender, who resides in Kansas. Mrs. Bender's death was the result of a severe attack of the grip.

NELLIE M. BLAKELY, FRANK W. GIBSON

Pretty Home Wedding Ceremony at the Residence of the Bride's Parents Last Evening.

A company of about thirty relatives, with a few intimate friends, witnessed the pretty marriage ceremony of last evening by which Miss Nellie M. Blakely became the wife of Frank W. Gibson. The scene of the happy ceremony was the pleasant home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Blakely, 303 Glen street, and it was one of the prettiest of home weddings.

The parlors were handsomely decorated with smilax and cut flowers, the arch under which the bridal party stood being made of heavy ropes of smilax from the center of which a large bouquet of roses hung pendant.

The bride and groom with their attendants entered the parlors at 7:30 o'clock to the strains of beautiful music, the wedding march being played by Mrs. Thurston T. Blakely, of Sun Prairie, Wis., sister-in-law of the bride. Miss Helena Stratman of Milwaukee, was maid of honor, and Fred Blakely, brother of the bride, was the groom's attendant. Little Miss Hazel Myhr, niece of the bride, served as ring bearer.

The bride wore a handsome gown of white silk mull which was especially becoming. The maid of honor's gown was green and white silk mull and the bridal party made a pretty picture while the momentous words which united the future interests of two of Janesville's well known young people were being spoken.

Rev. Robert C. Denison, pastor of the Congregational church, was the officiating clergyman and the ring service was used.

After the ceremony and congratulations, the elegant wedding supper was served at prettily decorated tables, the bride's table being especially handsome with ropes of smilax festooned from the corners of the table to the central chandelier, and a bouquet of roses hanging to meet the large bunch of the same fragrant flowers which graced the center of the table. The supper was delicious in quality and beautiful in quantity and the service was faultless.

The young people who have started on life's journey together so happily are held in highest esteem and affection by many friends. The bride is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Blakely and is a gracious young lady in whom charm of manner is added to other qualifications which fit her to preside over a home. She has enjoyed excellent educational advantages, being a graduate of the Janesville High school and of the Milwaukee Normal school. The young man into whose keeping she has given her future life is a worthy gentleman of sturdy integrity and ambitious industry. He is employed as a printer in the Job Department of the "Record" office. Mr. Gibson is also an accomplished musician and is a member of the Imperial band.

Mr. and Mrs. Gibson have gone at once to housekeeping at 55 Racine street, and their prettily furnished home contains many handsome wedding gifts, evidences of the best wishes of relatives and friends.

MARRIED IN MONTANA
Nuptials of Thos. Wilson of Dillon, and Miss Alice L. Phillips at Butte Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock. Mr. Thomas Wilson, of Dillon, and Miss Alice Lenore Phillips, of Featville, Wis., were married at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Fife, in Butte, Montana. Rev. J. W. Tait, of Grace M. E. church of that city, officiating.

The ceremony was in the presence of a few friends and relatives and was a quiet but pretty affair. The house was decorated with a profusion of carnations and roses. A wedding supper followed the happy event.

Mr. Wilson, the groom, is one of Beaverhead county's most successful young men.

YOUNG PEOPLE AT PARSONAGE
Charming Reception Given By Rev. and Mrs. Richard M. Vaughan at Their Home Last Night.

The young people of the Baptist church and congregation were delighted guests at a charming reception given last evening at the parsonage by Rev. and Mrs. Richard M. Vaughan from 8 to 10 o'clock.

A large company of young people assembled in the brilliantly and cheerfully furnished parlors in response to invitations issued and the reception was a decided social success.

Rev. and Mrs. Vaughan were assisted in receiving their guests by Miss Katherine Stoddard, president of the Young People's society of Christian Endeavor, and by Miss Faries of Wauwatosa, sister of Mrs. Vaughan. A cordial welcome awaited each guest and the receiving line was kept busy greeting new comers.

The host and hostess were happily assisted in caring for the comfort of the guests by some of the young people of the church. Little Miss May Kelly and Master Allan Dunwiddie waited on the door very prettily and Little Miss Emma Lovejoy stood at the head of the stairs to direct the guests to the rooms in which they removed their wraps.

A Surprise Party
Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Spooner were pleasantly surprised last evening by a party of sixteen of their friends who dropped in on them and proceeded to take possession of the house. The evening was pleasantly spent playing whist. The guests brought a number of well-filled baskets with them and later in the evening when the card tables were cleared an inviting repast was served and was enjoyed by all.

Miss Maud Fuller of Baraboo is the guest of her cousin, Miss Ada Mayhew.

WELL KNOWN YOUNG PEOPLE MARRIED

Wedding of Miss Eva Mae Dopp and William Eugene Olin at High Noon Yesterday.

Yesterday at high noon Miss Eva Mae Dopp and William Eugene Olin, both of this city, were happily married at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George M. Dopp, 157 Terrace street, the pretty marriage ceremony being witnessed by a company of about twenty-five relatives and friends.

The wedding was informal and unostentatious, the happy couple being unattended when they entered the parlors and took their place before the Rev. J. A. M. Riley, rector of Trinity church, who spoke the magic words which made them man and wife. The beautiful ring service of the Episcopal church was used and it was amid the most pleasing surroundings that the marriage vows were exchanged.

The bride was attired in a becoming gown of fawn colored broad cloth with trimmings of white silk and white applique and she never looked happier than when she resigned her name for that of another. The beautiful wedding ceremony was followed by hearty congratulations after which the bounteous wedding dinner was prettily served at two long tables which were beautified with decorations of ferns, smilax and gay carnations.

The bride is the second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George M. Dopp and, although of a retiring disposition, is a favorite with a large circle of friends. She is the happy possessor of marked musical ability and has often been heard by the people of Janesville.

The groom, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Olin, is also well and favorably known as a young man of sterling qualities, sincere and honest in all his ways. He is a trusted employee at Drummond's grocery store. He and his bride took no wedding trip but will be at home friends, as many handsome wedding trip but will be at home any street home of the groom's parents with whom they will reside for the present. They start the new year and their married life attended by the best wishes of a host of friends. As many handsome wedding gifts testify.

Among the guests at the wedding from out of the city were Mr. and Mrs. Albert F. Watson, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Watson, John Davis and family, all of Chicago; Mrs. Frank Melcher and family of Baraboo; and Miss Florence Ehle, of Harvard, Ill.

KILLS A THUGEugene Hector Put's Bullet in Brain of Desperate Hold-Up Man
IN THE CITY OF CHICAGO.Victim Is Supposed to Be George F.
Donovan, Hailing from Massachusetts —Robber Had a Partner Who Took to His Heels.

Chicago, Jan. 2.—Eugene Hector, formerly financial editor for the Inter Ocean, shot and killed a highwayman at Calumet avenue and Twenty-second street at 10 o'clock last night. The police took up the chase after the wounded bandit's confederate and captured him half a block away from the scene of the encounter. Hector, who lives at 4433 Oakwood avenue, had spent the evening with friends in Calumet avenue, near Twenty-first street, and took his leave a few minutes before 10 o'clock. He was walking south on the west side of the avenue when he noticed two roughly clad strangers dogging his steps on the opposite side of the road. Something about them suggested to his mind that they would halt him before he had escaped from the dimly lighted thoroughfare, and he took his revolver from his pocket and held it in his hand, concealing it in the folds of his overcoat. As he reached the center of the square the two men left the opposite sidewalk and crossed the road. The foremost man was a smooth-faced fellow, scarcely out of his teens, and he held a pistol gripped in both hands. As he stepped up on the walk alongside of Hector he leveled the weapon and ordered his victim to throw up his hands. Hector faced about on the instant and drew his own revolver. He was not five feet away from the bandit and he fired as he lifted the weapon. The bullet struck the man in the right eye and he sank to the ground without a word. As the pistol report rang out the robber's companion turned and ran toward the north and Hector fired two shots after him. The echoes of the shots aroused the residents along Calumet avenue, and as the fleeing bandit made his way along the middle of the street a window was raised in one of the residences and a shot was fired after his retreating figure. Police-men White, Bush and Tetford were attracted by the firing and they overhauled the fugitive highwayman in Prairie avenue, a short block away. He said his name was Edward Conger and that he lived in a South Clark street lodging-house. He admitted having been directly behind the wounded bandit, and said he witnessed the attack and subsequent shooting, but he denied having any part in the affray. The unconscious highwayman was removed to St. Luke's Hospital by the police and died there at 11:30 o'clock without regaining consciousness. The police have secured evidence that leads them to the conclusion that the name of the dead man is George F. Donovan and that his home is in Springfield, Mass. Mr. Hector accompanied the officers to the police station, expecting to be detained, but he was promptly set free.

Three Killed and Two Wounded.
Augusta, Ga., Jan. 2.—Three persons were killed and two wounded at Robins, N. C. in a fight during a party at the residence of Jesse Griffin. The participants in the fight are white people. The dead are: Fletcher Bennett, George Dunbar, Harry Dunbar. The wounded are: Mrs. George Dunbar, Arthur Dunbar. A "watch" party was given at the residence of Jesse Griffin. William Cobb became involved in a dispute, and the quarrel was taken up by Fletcher Bennett. Dunbar drew his pistol. Griffin, the host, interfered, taking Dunbar's pistol from him. Fletcher Bennett seized the weapon and shot George Dunbar, killing him instantly. The latter's son, Harry, came to the defense, but was also killed by Bennett. Arthur Dunbar, another son, also joined in the fight, and shot Bennett. The shooting became general, and Bennett received a second shot which killed him, and Arthur Dunbar received a wound which may prove fatal. Mrs. Dunbar was also seriously injured.

COL. MONSTERY IS DEAD.

Soldier of Many Wars Expires in Hospital at Chicago.

Chicago, Jan. 2.—Colonel Thomas Hoyer-Monstery, soldier of fortune, expert swordsman, and hero of numerous of skirmishes and battlefields, has fought his last fight with death at the Presbyterian Hospital and lost. He had suffered for nearly three weeks from an embolism of a throat artery, and while his friends were aware of the seriousness of his trouble none expected a fatal result. The passing of Colonel Monstery takes away one of Chicago's most picturesque figures and a man with a remarkable history. Eighty years old, he had the erect carriage of a man half his age, and his tall, spare figure, elastic step and military air attracted attention wherever he went. Fate had played many pranks with Colonel Monstery. Born in Baltimore in 1821, his adventurous career began at the age of 12, when his parents took him to Copenhagen and placed him in the Royal Academy. There he won a reputation as an athlete. After graduation began a series of duels, until he had to flee from Denmark. In 1842 he was an instructor in fencing in the Czar's household at St. Petersburg, but a duel with a noble forced him to leave Russia hurriedly. He returned to the United States in 1846 and went to San Francisco in 1849. After that came fighting with the Walker expedition in Nicaragua and the Cuban insurrection of 1851. In 1854 he joined the Spanish army as instructor general of fencing. Next he joined a filibustering expedition to Honduras, where he was captured, but escaped. Then came service in the Mexican army under Juarez. In 1871 Colonel Monstery opened a fencing school in New York. A few years later he came to Chicago and opened a school here. Six months ago Colonel Monstery went to Mexico to press a claim against the Mexican government for $150,000, which was stolen from him in 1860. For years Colonel Monstery had tried to interest President Diaz in his behalf. At length a favorable reply was received, and the veteran athlete hurried to Mexico. He came back without the money, a broken-hearted and discouraged man.

Explosion Sinks a Boat.

Cincinnati, Jan. 2.—A great pump boat blown to splinters, the pilot house of an adjoining steamboat reduced to kindling wood and an immense steel barge sunk are some of the results of a boiler explosion in the morning. The boiler on pump boat No. 4 exploded with a roar that shook the river and neighborhood for blocks around. The pump boat vanished. Presently there descended a storm of huge splinters. The boiler was hurled at towboat William C. Horner, lying in the harbor. It struck the pilot house and smashed it to fragments. A great slice was also torn out of the cabin. No one was hurt seriously.

Big Fire at Muskegon.

Muskegon, Mich., Jan. 2.—Fire which started at 10 o'clock in the morning in the clothing store of A. P. Conner & Co., damaged the stock, building, and adjoining mercantile establishments to the extent of $25,000. The crockery firm of J. O. Jeannot & Co., the Lecky company's dry goods store, and the W. D. Hardy company's department store suffered heavily from the smoke damage. The loss is fully covered by insurance.

Senator Beveridge's Sister Ill.

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 2.—Senator Beveridge received a telegram from Peoria calling him to the bedside of his sister. He started at once for that city. She is reported as very low with pneumonia. Her condition is such that the return of Senator Beveridge to Washington will in all probability be delayed.

Packing Plant for Mexico.

City of Mexico, Jan. 2.—A great American packing-house, to be established in the State of Michoacan, near the town of Uruapan, will soon be under active construction. A capital of $1,600,000 gold having been subscribed in Chicago. Uruapan, besides being a great coffee growing place, is in the heart of the cattle country.

Shoots Wife: Kills Himself.

Chicago, Jan. 2.—Henry Albert shot his wife early in the morning and then killed himself. The Alberts lived at 1061 California avenue, and for some time they had not been on friendly terms. The police believe that jealousy was the cause of the crime. Mrs. Albert may recover.

Craws Corner of Policemen.

Parkersburg, W. Va., Jan. 2.—While escorting several city prisoners over the streets of Clarksburg to-day Policemen Springs was relieved of his ward in a remarkable manner. When he was not looking Terry Robinson, one of the men, ran up and thrust a corncob in the face of the policeman, commanding him to throw up his hands. Springs thought the man had a gun and complied. While his hands were pointing heavenward seven prisoners escaped.

Takes the Helm in Virginia.

Richmond, Va., Jan. 2.—The new state administration was sworn in here in the presence of the members of the constitutional convention and a large crowd. Governor Montague delivered a brief inaugural address, touching in a general way on state matters, which he said he would deal with more fully in his message to the legislature, which then adjourned until Monday evening after a number of bills had been introduced.

Queer Mix-Up of Cannibals.

Katipell, Mont., Jan. 2.—A strange combination of murder and mishap led to two deaths and the injury of four persons here. Section Foreman Sullivan of the Great Northern, in a drunken rage, killed his daughter and seriously injured his wife at Jennings. A special train sent from here with doctors to attend the victims of this attack was wrecked and the engineer was killed, while the fireman, a brakeman and a doctor were injured.

Eleven Hurt at Grade Crossing.

Chicago, Jan. 2.—Eleven persons, several of them children, were injured at 9:35 o'clock p. m., when an engine of the Chicago Junction railway backed a train of thirty-five empty refrigerator cars upon a Wallace and Center avenue trolley car. The accident happened in Forty-seventh street, half a block west of Morgan street, where a Y runs into the Stock Yards. There are no gates at the crossing.

Shot His Father for a Burglar.

Galesburg, Ill., Jan. 2.—August Latholm of East Galesburg was shot and probably fatally wounded in the evening by his son, Anson. The two went into the ward by different doors in search of a supposed burglar. They met on opposite sides of the house and Anson, taking his father for the burglar, fired the bullet taking effect near the heart. A doctor has gone from here.

Negro Shot Down by Miners.

Terre Haute, Ind., Jan. 2.—A negro named Hensley was shot to death by a crowd of miners at Island City, when he returned to the scene of a fight he had with a few of them earlier. It is not known how many miners shot at him, but he was struck by a half dozen bullets. Sheriff Hutton found

Kodol
Dyspepsia Cure

Digests what you Eat
In speaking of indigestion, Dr. Lewis says: "It is deplorable that so many hundreds of thousands of Americans suffer from indigestion. It means that the blood of the nation is becoming impure; for undigested food poisons the blood. Unless a method is devised for overcoming this malady, our race must deteriorate." Many persons use soda tablets to neutralize fermenting food; this only makes a chemical receptacle out of the stomach, and injures its sensitive structures. Others feed on pepsin, which is better, but not sufficient, for it digests only albuminous foods. The preparation best fitted to relieve and absolutely cure indigestion is Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. It contains every known digestant and digests every kind of food. Its use is a common sense method of treating all stomach troubles, and the results are always certain.

THE KING'S CHOICE.

EDWIN A. ABBEY, WHO WILL PAINT THE CORONATION SCENE.

How the American Artist Has Won Fame and Honor Abroad With His Brush—His New Pictures For the Boston Library.

The visit of Mr. Abbey to this country reminds us that the foremost American painter works and lives in England. He is in the United States just now to superintend the placing in the Boston Public Library of the five beautiful panels he has been working on for the past ten years and recently finished. The selection of Mr. Abbey as the official painter of King Edward's coronation scene caused a stir in this country. It is the greatest compliment ever paid to one of our artists. When finished, the painting will hang in Windsor castle and will be the only one there painted by an American.

The career of the man to whom this great honor has fallen is full of interest. He is still comparatively young, for he was born in Philadelphia in 1852, so that he will not be fifty years old until about the time that he begins work on what will undoubtedly be his masterpiece. When a mere boy, he manifested great talent for sketching and after receiving a good education studied in the Philadelphia Art school with the intention of becoming an illustrator in black and white. He quickly jumped into prominence and about 1870 went to New York to illustrate for Harper & Bros. His work caught the fancy of the public in a very short time, and he was soon very well known.

The Harpers concluded to send Mr. Abbey abroad in 1878 to gather material for Goldsmith's "She Stoops to Conquer," with the result that the pictures fairly reeked of English country life of a century gone. Shakespeare illustrations followed, and Italy now being fairly near Abbey went there for some of his material, again securing the atmosphere of the stories. His water colors were remarked in London, and in 1883 he was elected a member of the Royal Institute of Water Colorists, and so, finding recognition, materials and sympathetic surroundings, he has remained abroad pretty constantly ever since.

In 1890 he sent his first oil picture, "A May Day Morning," to the Royal academy, and it was not only well received, but was hung in a prominent place, and was by universal consent one of the pictures of the year. In 1896 he was elected an associate of the Royal academy, and this was soon followed by election to full membership.

E. A. ABBEY.

For some time Mr. Abbey had his studio in London, but he finally gave up the city and went to the east coast of Gloucestershire, where he built a magnificent studio and country house, which he calls Morgan Hall. The house is splendidly equipped for the painter's work. It contains the largest and probably the finest studio in the country and a big apartment but especially for work on large sized pictures. There is also an immense wardrobe full of costumes, originals and authentic copies of the medieval period. Morgan Hall, as a whole, is stocked with furniture and "properties" of the romantic past. Before starting on picture Mr. Abbey is thus able to "build up the scene" in somewhat the manner of a great stage manager.

Besides his ability as an artist Mr. Abbey is a great student, particularly in archaeology. His collection of armor, old arms and costumes is considered the finest in the world, and he is rated as an authority on these things. Before producing a play with ancient setting Sir Henry Irving invariably goes to Mr. Abbey for advice. The artist is a many-sided man and is as fond of cricket as he is of work and study.

One of Mr. Abbey's most important undertakings was the work he has finished for the Boston Public Library the painting of five mural panels that will cover a space of 180 feet by 12. The subject he selected for the panels is "The Quest of the Holy Grail," an elaborate, it comprises "Sir Galahad as an Infant," "The Knighting of Sir Galahad by Lancelot," "Sir Galahad Brought to the Court of King Arthur by Joseph of Arimathea," "Benediction of the Knights Who Forth on the Sacred Quest" and "Galahad at the Sleepbound Castle." Although assisted by Mr. Sargent took Mr. Abbey ten years to complete this work. The pictures won the qualified commendation of art critics when they were on exhibition in London and had a good deal to do with the selection of the American artist to paint the coronation scene.

We know others who have tried it that have met with equally good results. Yours very respectfully, MRS. C. A. TRUCKENMILLER.

Mount City, Kans., Oct. 22, '00. PEPsin Syrup Co., Monticello, Ill.

Dear Sirs: I wish to add my endorsement and recommendation as to the merits of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. I have sold it as a druggist, and it always gives satisfaction, and my customers are loud in its praise as a laxative and stomach remedy. I myself had been troubled with my stomach and bearing so many of my customers speaking of Syrup Pepsin, I tried it, with the result that it cured my trouble. I unhesitatingly recommend Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin as a laxative and stomach remedy. Yours truly, J. M. HAWKINS, Druggist.

YOUNG BURGLARS TAKEN FROM TRAIN

Chief Hogan Makes an Important Catch—Nabs Two Boys in the Nick of Time.

Tuesday evening Chief Hogan made a quick trip to the passenger station and reached there just in time to catch Jacob Baker and Will Crawford, as they were leaving town on the front end of the 6:40 St. Paul passenger train. They gave their ages as 16 and 18. Baker said his home was "any old place he could hang his hat." Crawford claims Waupun as his place of residence. Chief Hogan received a message Tuesday asking him to look out for two youthful burglars who had robbed a store at Eagle Monday night of knives, jewelry and other plunder and were headed this way. During the afternoon he received word that two boys had been trying to dispose of knives at a second-hand store on West Milwaukee street. They had left there when the chief arrived and the next he heard of them they were at the Riverside hotel but before he arrived. He heard they were headed towards the depots and reached there just in time to get them off the head-end of the 6:40. When searched at the lock-up they had a little money and several knives and rings which they admitted stealing. They said they entered the store in the first place to secure a warm pair of pants and saw the knives and jewelry so took them with them. They seem to be a bright pair of boys and are not at all abashed at being questioned.

FIRST FIRE ALARM OF THE NEW YEAR

The first fire alarm of the new year came in last night shortly before eight o'clock. A telephone message was sent to the West Side engine house telling them that August Krueger's slaughter house near the stone crushing plant was on fire. Box 66 was pulled and the department started on its long run. On account of its being way beyond the fire limits, the hook and ladder team was sent back and the patrol and one hose team went on to the fire. When they arrived at the building they found the fire burning merrily but soon put it out with the Babcock chemical extinguishers. The injury to the building was small and it can be repaired for a few dollars. It is the opinion of those who saw the fire that it was the work of an incendiary.

DEATH IN NEW YEAR ROW.

On's Woman Burned, Another Dying.
Because of Husband's Jealousy.

Cleveland, O., Jan. 2.—What proves to be a tragedy was enacted in a little house at the rear of 182 Hamilton street at an early hour New Year's morning. As a result one woman is dead and another will die. At 11:55 p. m. Mrs. Frank Bayes and Lucy Below were enjoying themselves. Five minutes later they were writhing in agony. Frank Bayes, who was responsible for this sudden transformation, had in the meantime left the building with only a thin undershirt for a covering. With the temperature below the freezing point he traveled through the downtown district and was not captured until nearly three minutes after he left the house. He was locked up at Central Police station. At the Lakeside Hospital, where the Below girl was taken, patrolmen were summoned to take ante-mortem statements, which she made before she died. According to the statement made by her to the police the trouble was caused by jealousy. Mrs. Bayes having objected to the presence of a woman called Carrie, who had been invited to the evening's carousal. Mrs. Bayes' burns, while not so serious as those of the girl, are probably fatal. Her face, hands, and neck are badly burned, and the flesh on her right leg was burned almost to the bone.
